The image shows a screenshot of a web browser displaying the registration page for the UK Oracle User Group. The browser's address bar shows the URL https://members.ukoug.org/login/register_corporation_check.asp. The page contains a registration form with several sections and fields. Red annotations with arrows point to specific elements:

- New/Existing Location: A dropdown menu is set to "New (complete below)". An arrow points to it with the text "Select 'New (complete below)'".
- Location Owner: Two radio buttons are present: "Individual" (selected) and "Organisation". An arrow points to the "Individual" button with the text "Select 'Individual'".
- Address Fields: A large red oval encircles the "Address" section, which includes input fields for "Address", "Town/City", "County", "Postcode", and "Country". An arrow points to this section with the text "Complete the remaining fields".
- My role within my organisation: Two radio buttons are present: "I am an end user of Oracle products" (selected) and "I am a third party as I provide Oracle related products/services".
- Register Button: A button labeled "Register" is located at the bottom of the form. An arrow points to it with the text "Click 'Register'".

The browser's taskbar at the bottom shows several open applications: Microsoft PowerPoint, UK Oracle User Group, and Skype - rachelne... The system tray on the right indicates the time is 14:09 and the date is Membership.
