

6 (a) No. A doubly-linked list requires more space and the operations are slower as two links have to be set.

(b) Disadvantages of sequential representation:

- maximum size has to be specified in advance
- storage space has to be contiguous

Disadvantages of linked representation:

- space required for links
- slightly slower operations