The talks will include an introduction from the programme director, a hands-on introduction to the departmental computer systems and short presentations by representatives from the library and student services.

3. Locations

Personal timetables, including the teaching venues, are provided through My Birkbeck.

You are advised to check your personal timetable before each lecture because room bookings can change at short notice. A general timetable for the week ahead is available on the department website.

4. Attendance

Students should attend lectures during term time as shown in the timetables. If students are unable to attend lectures, they should consult Moodle to obtain copies of any material distributed in class. Any student who decides to withdraw from the programme should inform the Programme Administrator. Students who simply stop turning up for lectures without formally withdrawing from the programme will still be held liable for fees. It is especially important for international students that they inform the department about any absence.
